Mr. Francis-I quite understand your Covilship. I put it to your Lordship this way theoretically, the prisoner had no responsibility for money. I am putting it to your Lordship that he was placed in a position only in which large sums of money had to pass through his hands, and yet his superiors are supposed to be entirely ignorant of that, and no encoksprecautions-were adopted, and he was left exosed to the temptation; and I submit it is constantly usged as a reason for ameliorating sentence, for consideration by the Judge or the Court, when a person is altarged with theft or largeny, that the person so charged has been exposed to temptation by his employers and put in a position and given opports ilies which he was supposed not to possess and to which he ought not to be exposed; and it is with reference to that consideration that I considered it fair in this case to call your Lordship to consider these points and on that slone. I ask your Lordship's ilteration to his position; his thirty-flyn years' service, his utterly igsignificant salary. the entire absence of all pubbability of promotion or amendment in his position, to the fact '-
